MOUTH OF SENECA

LEE WHITE IS DEAD; THRESHING MACHINE BLOWS UP; A MAN SNAKE BITTEN

Lee White, father of Corbett White, of Harman Hills, died last Thursday night at the home of his son. He died of complications and advanced age.

Funeral services were held Sunday at Elkins by his pastor Rev. Kesecker and interment followed immediately in the Maple Wood Cemetery, of that city.

A first class threshing machine owned by Dice Bros., of Timber Ridge recently blew up while thresh-

A first class threshing machine owned by Dice Bros., of Timber Ridge recently blew up while threshing. The machine was completely demolished, but fortunately no one was injured. It is assumed that dust explosion caused the wreck. It is well known fact that dust collecting at certain points and ignited by a spark caused by friction will cause an explosion equal to dynamite.

Eddie Hinkle, of Riverton, was bitten on the foot last week by a copperhead snake near his house. He was a very sick man in a few minutes. He was rushed to King Clin-
